THE VICE PRESIDENT AT MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 8, 1875. . Vice President Wilson arrived at three o'clock on the Memphis and Louisville train. He was met at the National Cemetery by committees from the General Council and Chamber of Commerce, and on arriving at the depot in this city was met by Mayor Loague and the remainder of the city officials. The Mayor received the Vice President with a brief address tendering the hospitalities of the city. to which Mr. Wilson responded in an appropriate manner, taking occasion to say that he was travelling simply as a private citizen to see the country, and, after referring to his antislavery record and the late war, which he thought could not have been averted by any power of man. hoped that peace and good feeling would succeed Its bitterness, and that our country would prosper and become the greatest nation upon earth. After an air from the band in attendance, the party took carriages for the Peabody Hotel, where an immense crowd had assembled. In response to loud calls the Vice President appeared upon the to loud calls the vice President appeared upon the verands and made a short address. During the afternoon a large number of prominent citizens, including Coionel Casey Young, member of Congress; ex-Governor Harris, General Patterson, Collector of Internal Revenue, and others, called upon Mr. Wilson. The Vice President remains here until Monday evening, when he leaves for Little Rock. The state of his health and the weather will determine whether he will go to Texas or st. Louis, and if to the latter place he will extend his trip to Denver; but it is his intention to reach home early in June.

THE MINING TROUBLES.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 8, 1875. Constable Reppler, into whose bands the warrant for the arrest of the persons who beat McDade was placed, went with a posse to Kingston today, but failed to secure them. The warrant was this afternoon turned over to the Sheriff, and another effort will be made to arrest them. A slight disturbance took place at the Hutchinson Mines to-day, which resulted in Henry Kustabolker. a miner, swearing out a warrant, before Philbin, of this city, against Auderman Polibin, of this city, against Hutchinson for assault and battery and carrying concealed weapons. A hearing was waived and ball entered. The meeting of miners held here to-day was attended by delegates from every district in this region. Joan Siney, President of the Miners' National Association, was present. The session was secret and the proceedings have not been made public. At a meeting of the Haitimore District, No. 283, held to-day, it was usanimously resolved, "That we support our breturen on strike, and continue to do so until they get their prices."

INDIAN PRISONERS.

AND OTHER DISTINGUISHED WARRIORS AMONG THE CAPTIVES-THE PARTY ON THEIR WAY TO FORT LEAVENWORTH. KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 8, 1875.

Seventy Indian prisoners, from Fort Sill, passed through here this afternoon for Fort Leavenworth in charge of two companies of United States troops. Lieutenant W. J. Kyle, in command, assisted by Lieutenant W. H. Wheeler, and Lieutenant R. H. Pratt accompanied them. Your correspondent met them at Sedalia, and came here in their company. Medicine Water, who led the party that assisted at the Germaine massacre, is with them, as are also the lollowing:—Lone Wolf, the celebrated Klowa chief, who has been a leader in the Indian war for some years and who was once captured by General Sherman; White Horse, murderer of the crosler and the Lee family; Huwahnee, murderer of Caborn at Wishita Agency; Woman's Heart, Gray Beard, Heaps of Birds, and many others equally notorious. The party comprises the principal chiefs who have caused all the trouble for the past five years and their capture is considered as the Angle of Indian outrages. Kicking Bird, who delivered them to the troops, was poisoned by a squaw and died at Fort Sill on May 3. A STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the bill to unity the supervisory system of the Educational Department of the State. It abolishes the office of Regent of the University and creates a State Board of Education, to commist of nine members, to be appointed by the Governor, and the Senate to have charge of the department. Mr. Hepburn took the floor, and spoke at length in layer of the proposition, Mr. Notan made the point that the attendance of members was too thin to dispose of such a bill, and moved to report progress. Lost, and the bill was ordered to a third reading.

CANAL MATTERS.

BUPPALO, May 8, 1875. The Board of Trade adopted the new Canal Bill of Lading this morning. Two week days are allowed consignees to discharge cargo, provided notice of arrival shall be given before twelve o'clock M. Alter which time the cargo or consignee pays demurrage at the rate of two per ceat per day upon the freight, including tolls for each and every day of such demurrage over the two days, as above specified, until the cargo is fully discharged. There is no important change in the other clauses.

HOW A BOARD BILL WAS PAID.

MILWAUKER, WIS., May 8, 1875. At Chillon, Wis., to-day, George Miller, a one-armed soldier, shot John Naines, proprieter of a hotel, and Henry Kuehis, hostier, and then proceeded to the cemetery and shot nimself. Of the three men only Kuchis can possibly recover. The cause of the tragedy was a quarrel over a board AMUSEMENTS.

"The Rivals" and the "Happy Pair" were last night substituted for the "Road to Ruin."

change of bill brought out the brilliant audience that is distinctively Wallackian, and the foyer looked as bright as a flower garden. Miss Dyas and Mr. Montague, in the "Happy Dyas and Mr. Montague, in the "Happy Pair," renewed their former successes, and the audience admired the periormance as though they were contemplating something of their own experience in a mirror. The "Rivals," with Jonn Glibert, Beckett, Arnott, Floyd, in the cast, with Miss Dyas as Lydia Languish, and Mme. Ponisi as Mrs. Malaprop, was worthy of the home of the old comedy. Miss Dyas' performance of Lydia Languish added another laurei to the many ane has already gathered on the American stage.

LYCEUM THEATRE.

The benefit performance tendered last night to Mile. Girardin at this house unusually interesting event. Three light and charming comedicatas were presented for the occasion, and the man-ner in which they were acted, and the side French life portrayed, so different of French life portrayed, so different from the pictures which the sensational drama has familiarized us, were truly refreshing. Mile. Girardin, the fair beneficiatre appeared in all three pieces and displayed an admirable versatility in her picturing of girlhood. Her Adrienne, in Barrière's "Le Feu au Couvent," was especially sweet and simple. It was a delicious piece of acting and had about it an odor of innocence we rarely encounter in the theatra. The house was good, but not so large as it ought to have been. Mile. Girardin was supported by Messrs. Juignet, Genot, Girard and Stuart.

RISTORI'S FAREWELL

At the conclusion of the Matinee d'Adieu, at the Lyceum Theatre yesterday, the great actress made LADIES AND GENTLEMENT—It has come at last. The saddest of words must be spoken, for America is very dear to me, and, in taking leave of New York, I take leave of a most generous public of friends, whose memory thall ever cherish. I believe that I say farowell with my heart upon my lips. Farewell, and may God bless your noble country.

Miss Neilson's engagement at Booth's Theatre closed last night with "The Lady of Lyons" and the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet." At the conclusion of the performance the actress spoke her farewell to America in the felicitous style for which she is so remarkable. Miss Neilson's speech

Ladies and Gentleren.—Of all the trials through which we hand in hand, have passed to night the hardest is still before me. The curtain of separation has just fallen between its, and a few moments since on its fallen between its, and a few moments since on its fallen between its and a few moments since on the fallen of it. If set shat out-barnshed your and and and of its fall shad with the set of the fall shad with a shad with the set of the fall shad when the same the set of the fall shad with the set of the fall shad warries the m.n.t. "Farewell" may have a not ingrateful sound. For myself, now in the presence of an assemblage as great in numbers as appreciative, enthusiastic and responsive as that which greeted me to this very theatre, it can have no kindred significance. It carries with it neither pleasure nor promise, for it foreshadows separation from a myriad of lovers of Shakespeare and the drama and so from a myriad of friends and absence from scenes which can never be effaced from the memory of the artiste or the woman. In a lew days I sail for England, for a long rest and repose from professional labora so that many months must go by ere we meet again. Probably two years—twice twelve months. "Its twenty years till then" but I need scarcely say that I will ofen picture you, my rriends, as I see you, now at parting, and I am proud and happy to believe that I shall not meanwhile be altogether forgotten by you, for your own bright land, gracious welcome and continuous encouragement will never be away from my thoughts. not meanwhile be altogether forgotten by you, for your own bright land, gracious welcome and continuous en couragement will never be away from my thoughts Good night. Goodby.

The Italian colony in Paris will carry out the idea of distinguishing by a commemorative stone the house in which Goldoni lived and died. Mile. Zaré Thalberg, Mr. Gye's new prima donna, has arrived in London. She is, we understand, to make her debut as Zerlina, in "Don Giovanni." Daly is becoming reckless. He has resolved to give to each lady a sliver brick from his "Big Bonanza," on the occasion of the hundredth performance of that wonderfully successful; Mr. J. N. Pattison, who recently lectured in this city on "Music and the Great Composers," appeared on Thursday evening before a Philadelphia audience. His novel and classical entertainment met with decided favor. The Kirally Brothers have, we are assured, secared all the properties and costumes of "Around the World In Eighty Days," from the proprietor of the Porte St. Martin. It is intended to produce this spectacle in New York. Aimée opens in the "Jolie Parfumeuse" on Monday night at the Lyceum. Tuesday night she appears in "Le Petit Paust." Her last appearance in America will be made on Friday, as she returns immediately to Europe. It is said she will be absent for one or two years. The demand for seats for Miss Fanny Davenport's benefit has been so great that on Saturday evening all the places in the orchestra and balcony had been purchased. In order to accommodate the many applicants for seats Mr. Daly has resolved to reserve the upper circle.

Signor Salvini, the greatest of living Italian tragedians, made his first appearance before an English andience in the play of "Othello." Salvini was, of course, the hero, and the critics declare that no such dramatic embodiment of Shakespeare's magnificent creation has been wilnessed in our time.

Miss Clara Morris begins an engagement at Booth's to-morrow evening, appearing as Evadne in Richard Shiels' tragic play "Evadne," This will be her first appearance in New York since her California successes. On the 17th inst, "Macbeth" is to be produced, with Miss Morris as Lady Macbeth and George Rigneld as Macbeth.

A series of dramatic readings and recitations will be given by Miss Teresa Esmonde, assisted by Dr. James L. Farley, at De Garmo Hall, on Tuesday evening, May 11. The cottage scene from the "Honeymoon," humorous sketches from "Nicholas Nickleby" and scenes from the "Love Chase" will form part of the attractive programme.

Miss Adah Richmond, who played the part of Abmed in the Grand Opera House, has been prostrated by a severe attack of diphtheria, from which she is slowly recovering. At the time she undertook the part of Ahmed she was not in good health and was forced to give up and resign herself to the care of her physician.

As Paris does not possess a third lyric theatre, the new directors of the Monnaie, Brussels, MM. Stonmon and Calabrési, intend placing their theatre at the disposal of French musicians for the production of untried operas. Moreover, French critics are to be invited to first performances (%). The idea is generous and may be fertile in results. Paris wants a theatre for debuts.

Mr. Joseph H. Tooker, business manager Booth's Theatre, is to be benefited by a remarkable entertainment to be given at that establishment on next Thursday afternoon. If the programme is judiciously arranged nothing yet offered this season will compare with it in point of merit and magnitude. Among the volunteers are Miss Neilson, who generously postponed her departure for Europe until next Saturday to appear on this occasion; Rignold, Montague, the Florences, Daly's Fifth Avenue company, the specialty artists Harrigan and Hart, George Clarke, Kate Claxton, Rose Eytinge, Ada Dyas George Fawcett Rowe and many others. The bill, being arranged, is to be published in detail on Tuesday.

Extraordinary attractions will be offered at Mi s Daven ort's benefit on Tuesday, "fhe Hunchback" and "The Rough Diamond" will be presented for the occasion. Mesers. Rignold, Montague and Frank Mayo-the three rivals for the post of handsomest man-appearing in the cast. It is said that a real golden apple, from the property room, will be presented to that one of the three male graces who shall obtain the most votes. The question of beauty is to be decided by the votes of the ladies present, the masculine gender being disfranchised for the occasion, as it is purely a feminine question. Lewis, Davidge and others, who have no claim on the public except being good actors, will also be introduced in the cast.

COLLISION OFF HALLETT'S POINT. A SOUND STEAMER BUNS INTO A STEAM VACHT-

IMMINENT DANGER OF LOSS OF LIFE, BUT THE PLEASURE PARTY AND ALL HANDS SAVED A collision occurred yesterday afternoon in the East River, off Hailett's Point, opposite Ninetysecond street, between the Sound steamer C. H. Northam, on her way to New Haven, and the ous damage to the yacht, came near resulting in the loss of several lives. The Signet was the pleasure yacht of Mr. Peter

Cooper until the beginning of the present month, when he sold it to Mr. Grinnell, formerly the proprietor of the Long Island Fashion Track, who, with his family, yesterday intended to go up the river on a first pleasure excursion. The yacht took on board, at the foot of Thirty-fourth street. Mr. and Mrs. Grinnell, their two sons and two daughters, with two relatives of the family, and after steaming down to Peck slip, where she received some boats, returned, going up the river as far as Hallet's Cove, leaving the boats there, and then, at about four o'clock, she started up the river. FA pleasant trip of naif an hour brought them as far as Hallett's Point, but on the same route also, and closely following the Signet, was the Northam. There is always a fair tide up the river as far as the Point, and it is easy sailing on the eddy, but coming round the rolls to perienced pilot looks out for a four-knot current coming with the strong ebb on the eddy, but coming round the Point the ex-It was at this spot the Hope, the Americus and other small vessels were lost within a period of not many years. When the Signet was nearing Hallett's Point the C. H. upon the smaller vessel, turning her completely over. People on the Astoria shore who saw the vessels passing and who knew the danger ahead, watched them with anxiety, knowing the intricacies of the place. At the time of collision the two engineers were in the engine room, one of them being at dinner, and one of the two deck hands was in the forecastle, the other being on the deck beside the wheel. The passengers were all in the cabin amusing themselves playing games. The signet was struck by the Northam at the pilot house, on the port side, and the anchor and thirty-five fathoms of chain, the pilot house, engine room and the wheel were all swept away, nothing but a mass of debris being left at the bow end of the yacht. One of the deck hands, Thomas McCabe, was badiy crushed by the falling timeers in the forecastle and was thrown overboard, but fortunately contrived to scramble to the rudder and hold to it. John Haines, the other deck hand, was snocked from the deck with the pilot house, and was drifted down the river to the middle channel. McCabe sustained injuries on the head and body, which are not very serious, but Haines was wounded on the face and had two of his inigers badiy lacerated. When the capitaln of the Northam saw the extent of the people on both shores, who had been watching the unfortunate occurrence, promptly manned their boats and speedly arrived to the relief of the Signet. The Northam then hauled in her boats and steamed away. One of the first boats on the scene was that of Mr. E. Brown, proprietor of the baths at the loot of Ninety-second street, East fiver (who has more than once done similar service), and Mr. Baxter, from Eighty-sixth street, and Mr. Muller, of Astoria, as well as others, were soon removing the irightened pleasure party from the deck of the yacht to the boats, and in a short inne the whole party were safely landed in New York. Haines was rescued at the Middle Channel Reef in an aimost exhausted condition.

The new Fifth avenue Presbyterian church, whose pastor is the Rev. John Hail, D. D., will be dedicated to-day. The edifice is at the northwest corner of Pifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street. Afterward the congregation will sing a hymn, for there is no regularly organized choir, it being thought that the members of the church feel more devotional walle singing than while being sung at. After the hymn Dr. Hail will deliver a sermon, at the conclusion of which the congregation will close the services by singing some special hymns and the doxnogy beginning:—

FIRST PRACTICE OF THE AMERICAN NATIONAL TRAM. In conformity with a previous resolution the American Team met yesterday on the Creedmoor rifle ranges for practice. Messrs. Hepburn, Cole-man and Colonel Bodine were absent. The weather was, upon the whole, not unfavorable to good shooting, and the six members of the team who were on the ground made remarkably fine scores. The average of yesterday's shooting is up to 140 points per man, or about 3 29-100 points per shot. This record beats the best practice of the Irish Team at Wimbledon. The year in which they carried off the Elcho challenge shield but a small fraction over three points per shot was achieved

The IRISH-AMERICAN RIFLE CLUB.

Th's association had an initiatory match yesterday at 200 and 500 yards. But few of the members were present. They shot the first match that has come off before the new system of marking adopted last year at Wimbledon, and have inlien greatly below their last year's record. The bractice before the new 200 yards targets will be found particularly difficult to obtain satisfactory results from, as outside of the forty inch ring embracing the whole field upon which hits can be counted there is a very large space on the target which counts nothing if hit. This circumstance will very materially reduce the 200 yards scores to be made during the summer by regimental team and other

| Colonel Wingate was out yesterday trying | the |
| National Guard Cavalry carbine (Remingt | ton), |

National Guard Cavairy carbine (Remington), and with excellent results. The cavairymen who were out at Creedmoor last year did not like the weapon which had been served out to them because their shooting with it was not remarkably good. Colonel Wingate used the carbine at 150 and 200 yards. At the former distance he maie good practice by showing one-third of the front sight and three-quarters of it at the latter range. With this elevation the carotine will shoot as well as the infantry rifle.

Company F Rifle Club (Twelfith regiment) were out at the ranges on Friday, and at 500 yards, seven rounds per man, made an aggregate score of 280 points.

Mr. P. H. Holton, of the Twenty-third regiment, made yesterday with his Ward-Burton rifle 55 points at 500 yards and 46 points at 800 yards, with fineen shots at each range.

Among the gentlemen on the ranges were noticed General Shaler, Colonel Meenan, Colonel Carl Jussen, L. M. Ballard and others.

The Dublin Evening Mail of the 24th ult. puolishes the following in reference to the approaching international rife match:

A telegraphic message, received this afternoon by Major Leech from New York, states—'inman Line, Tender's, passage, American Team, City of Chester, sails June 5." The arrangements for the starting of the learn are, therefore, complete. Major Leech's characteristic answer is aiready in the hands of his correspondent, and consisted of the three very sufficient words, 'Coad Mille Fuithe.' This caturday is the first day of the competition for selection of the Irish Team to meet the Americans on this peaceful battle ground. We assure the best results from the friendly interchange of hospitalities. The Americans will be cordially received by all classes. We understand that many American citizens of high position will accompany their countrymen to Ireiand, and the month of June, consequently, may be anticipated as a period of much local interest. The programme for the entertainment of the guests is ample and judicious. We can now state positively that the match will be shot at Dollymount. As we mentioned on a former occasion, the Team will be entertained by the Lord Mayor, by the Proofst and Fellows of Trinity College, and in all probability by the cuitzons. It is expected that a large number of Englishmen and Scotchmen interested in rifle shooting will come to Treland to witness the contest. The reception given to the Irish Team in America was so corduit that it is gratifying to be able to indicate that arrangements so complete in every respect are contemplated for the return visit.

the invention of this machine marks one of the most important eras in the history of this contriv, and when we consider the influence it has upon the social well being
